

AVIATION-EVENT 2021 TENERIFE

Aviation-Event 2021 Tenerife: the start of a new era in tourism and aviation

Tenerife will host the Aviation-Event 2021 on 11 June, considered to be the largest aviation industry event in the world. This will take place, for the first time, outside of the habitual circuit of European capitals in which it has been held to date, which places Tenerife as the spearhead of the recovery once, as expected, the worst of the coronavirus pandemic is over.

This is the spirit of the event: to become a driver to reinitiate the return to normality in the new era of tourism and aviation in which we are entering in the wake of the outbreak of Covid-19 in our lives.

Prior to this event, Tenerife hosted the Aviation-Event Supervisory Board Meeting Tenerife 2021 from 27 February to 1 March, to prepare for June's event on the island.

Press briefing by Island Council of Tenerife

A press briefing to present the Aviation-Event to the accredited local, national and international media was held at the headquarters of the Island Council of Tenerife on 1 March. The press briefing was given by the President of the Island Council, Pedro Martín; the Councillor for Territorial Planning, Historic Heritage and Tourism of the Island Council, José Gregorio Martín Plata; the President of the Supervisory Board of Aviation-Event, Adrian Von Dörnberg, and the CEO of Aviation-Event, Marcel Riwalsky.

Aviation-Event Supervisory Board Meeting Tenerife 2021

Later on the same day, 1 March, the Aviation-Event Supervisory Board Meeting Tenerife 2021 was held, which the CEO of Tourism of Tenerife, David Pérez, attended, together with the members of this body. At the meeting, the issues to be addressed at June's event on the island were decided on.

Presentation at Gran Meliá Palacio de Isora in Alcalá

On the evening of 1 March, the presentation of the conclusions of the meetings was given at Gran Meliá Palacio de Isora in Alcalá, which established the issues to be addressed at the meeting in June, which was attended, among others, by the President of the Island Council, Pedro Martín; the Councillor for Territorial Planning, Historic Heritage and Tourism of the Island Council, José

Plata; the President of the Supervisory Board of Aviation-Event, Adrian Von Dörnberg; the CEO of Aviation-Event, Marcel Riwalsky, the rest of the members of the Council present on the island, and the local tourism councillors of different local authorities in Tenerife, together with representatives of the island's tourism sector.

MEDIA IMPACT

The repercussions in the local, national and international media of the Aviation-Event Supervisory Board Meeting Tenerife 2021, and in the social media, were noteworthy. We will now show you some of the more important reflections:

There isn't much flying these days. A circumstance which after all these months remains unreal to me as an avid frequent flyer. So it is somewhat of a professional excursion when attending the Aviation Event supervisory board meeting in Tenerife and getting to board one of my very few flights since early last year.

Another productive day here at Tenerife for our AE Supervisory Board Meeting, this time meeting with the President of the Cabildo de Tenerife Pedro Martín, who recently supported the foundation of the new Canary Airways airline. After holding a series of meetings, today was officially launched the Aviation Event Tenerife which will take place on 11 June 2021, at the Gran Hotel Meliá Palacio de Isora, to gather Aviation and Travel Experts to address the restart of the Aviation and Touristic activity in the region.

The big date Aviation-Event 11 June 2021

The Aviation-Event 2021, to be held in Tenerife on 11 June, will become the centre of the debate at which between 250 and 300 leaders of the aviation industry and representatives of institutions will align strategies on the evolution of the sector. A valuable opportunity for the media that attend to get in touch with the main European airlines and their airports, senior European politicians and Presidents of such organisations as IATA, etc., that take part in the event.
