3 February 2026 | House of Logistics & Mobility (HOLM), Frankfurt Airport

Aviation-Event announces its next major European conference, Aviation-Event 2026 Germany (Luftverkehrsgipfel Deutschland), taking place on 3 February 2026 at the House of Logistics and Mobility (HOLM) in Frankfurt am Main.

Organized by Aviation-Event, at the House of Logistics & Mobility (HOLM) in the City of Frankfurt, the event will bring together Europe's leading aviation, business, and political stakeholders for a focused dialogue on the current challenges shaping European air transport and the future competitiveness of European air transport sector.

Marcel Riwalsky, CEO, Aviation-Event: "Air transport in Europe is increasingly characterized by taxes, duties and regulations — rules that do not apply, or apply to a lesser extent, in non-EU countries. Europe's aviation sector is facing growing structural pressures from taxation and regulation. This summit will provide a platform for industry and government leaders to address these disparities and drive sustainable competitiveness in the European aviation sector."

About Aviation-Event:

Aviation-Event is a leading platform for networking, insight-sharing, and policy discussion within the aviation industry. Each year, Aviation-Event hosts prominent conferences across Europe, bringing together stakeholders from airlines and airports
